

Brachiosaurus

← the same as

By Sophia Alonzo

Introduction

The Brachiosaurus lived in North America. (Their name is pronounced back-ee-uh-saw-sus)

their b

Appearance

The Brachiosaurus had four legs that weren't equally sized. They were weighed up to as much as 30-50 tonnes. (the same as)

T

African elephants. The Brachiosaurus had spoon shaped teeth. The Brachiosaurus was 25 meters long and they had a was could we use a different adjective here?

Stomach Latter neck for getting leaves from a tree. The Brachiosaurus had the longest, some less or the same as the sauropods. He had a small head.

Diet

The Brachiosaurus ate about 200kg (440lb) of leaves a per day. The Brachiosaurus used his spoon shaped teeth to snip off leaves from trees like conifers and tree ferns. ~~He they were~~ A behavior which means they ate plants. The Brachiosaurus had 100 ^{predators} preeters. The Brachiosaurus ate ^{off leaves and twigs} between 400 and 900 pounds a day.

Did you know?

The name Brachiosaurus comes from a Greek word meaning 'arm' and lizard. The Brachiosaurus was the tallest and largest of all the sauropods. The Brachiosaurus never stopped eating.

Habitat

They lived in the ^J Jurassic period. The Brachiosaurus lived around 153 to 154 million years ago. They lived in North America. The Brachiosaurus belongs to a group of dinosaurs called sauropods.